

Ed Millán, AIA

S.E.A. Project Architect

Education:

Master of Architecture,
University of Southern California,
Bachelors of Environmental Design
University of Colorado, Boulder

Ed graduated with a Master of Architecture from the University of Southern California and a Bachelor of Environmental Design from the University of Colorado. Ed is a licensed architect with over 11 years of experience in California.

Ed joined the Studio of Environmental Architecture in 2015, focusing his talents and experiences on the design, development, entitlement, permitting, and construction of ground-up builds and renovations for high end single family residences and estates, mixed-use developments, and both retail and office commercial projects.

Prior to joining the firm, Ed worked as a Project Manager for AREA Architecture, a boutique architecture firm in LA, and before that as a designer for Walker Warner Architects in San Francisco.
